This is your 1950 YAMACRAW. The staff has tried to present a picture of student life as it is lived under the philosophy of the school. Here we see the successful effort to resolve the conflict which dominates contemporary life, the conflict between material and spiritual forces.

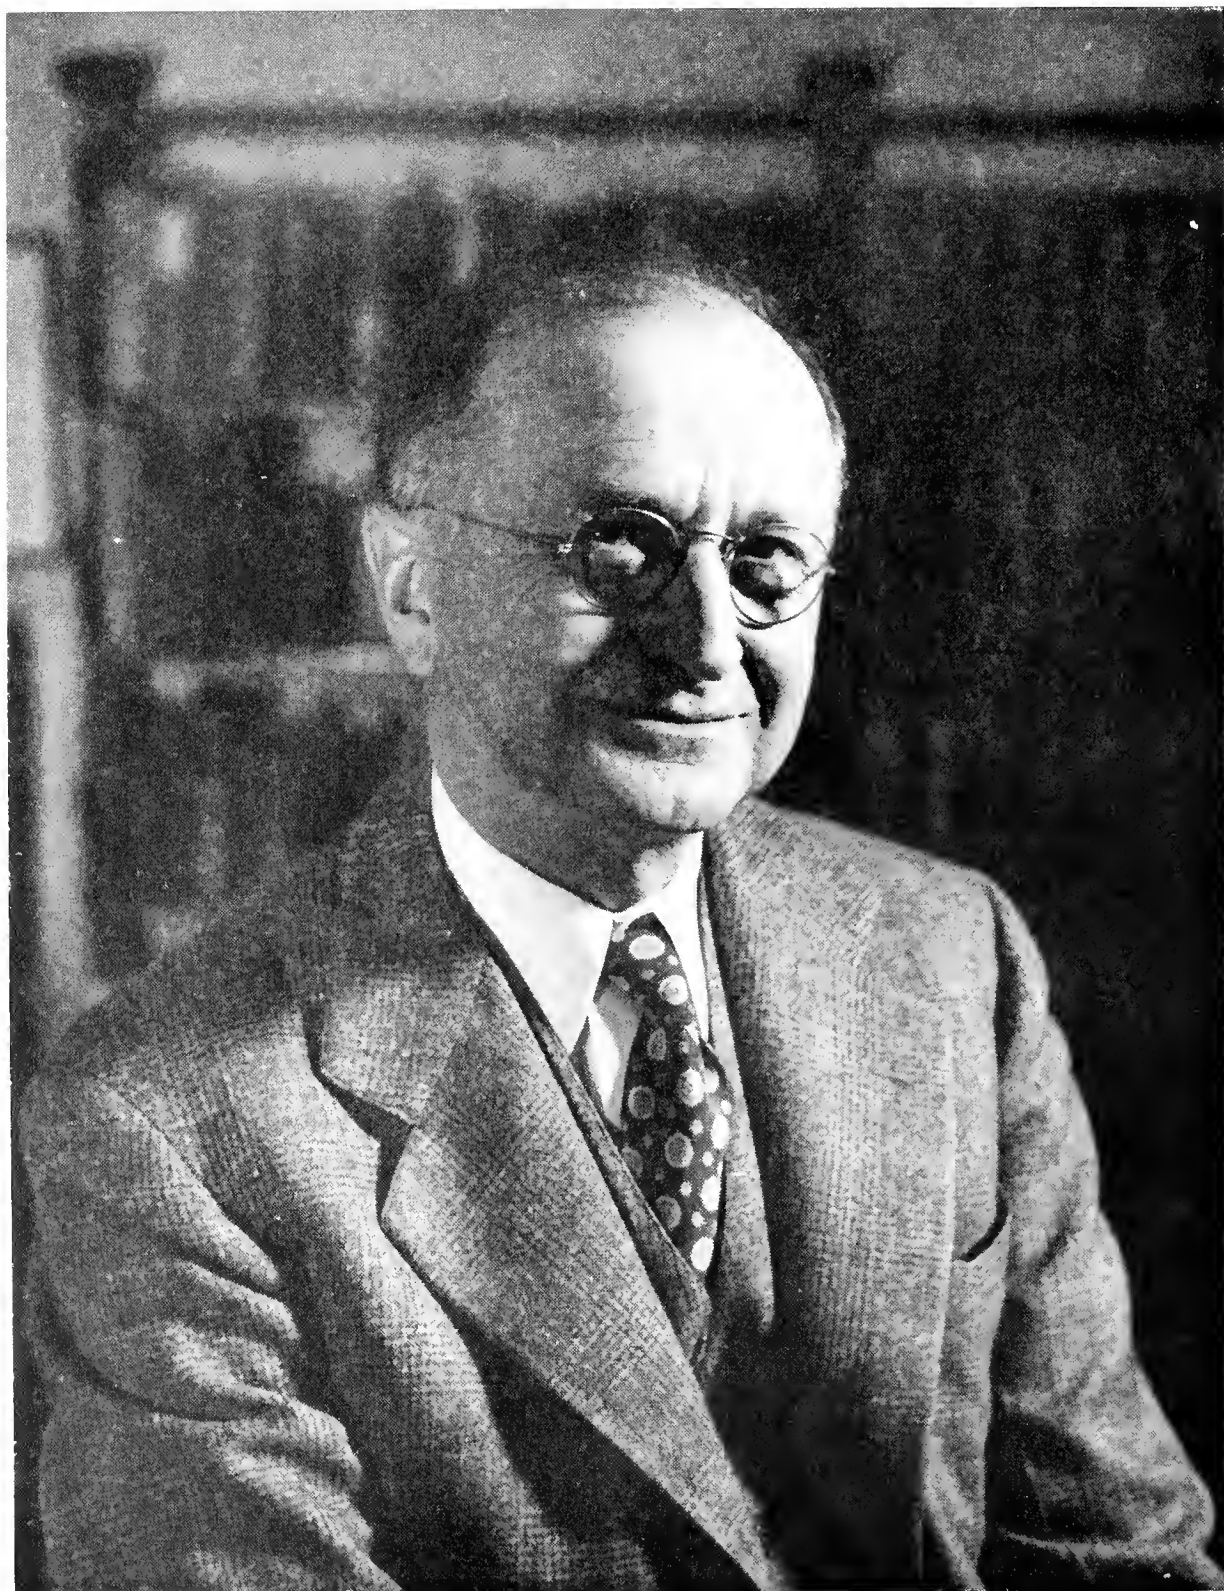

The Oglethorpe Family, in its day to day existence, is proof that the most successful education is that in which the student is taught to live happily with himself and usefully as neighbor, friend, and citizen. These are the men and women who will dare greatly because of vision, and, having knowledge, will achieve.

Under our approach to education, the instructor is more than a teacher; he is also a friend and counsellor.

Human Understanding

A student must learn what great minds have thought of life, the moral no less than the material, and the fact that these two are one, stemming from the same creation.

Citizenship

A successful nation must have a citizenry capable of judging its own affairs, of developing wise and patriotic leadership, and providing direction to the policies of its public servants.

A student must qualify himself to understand common business practices and principles, and also be aware of the human responsibility of business.

Science

Science must develop ingenuity and the will to delve beneath appearances, to forswear unsupported opinion, and to rest nothing short of exact and complete information.

A man in love has his head in the clouds and is filled with romantic thoughts.

But, for the moment, let's get down to earth and discuss the matter; without its romantic aspect for your own sake.

Our low overhead . . . our personal representatives in the foreign diamond markets . . . our advantageous position in settling estates and loan foreclosures . . . plus the combined buying power of our wholesale and retail divisions enable us to sell you fine jewelry at prices from 20 to 40% less than the average retail jewelry store.

We have saved our customers more than $250,000 in the past four years.

Your inspection, comparison and patronage will be appreciated.
